

WHAT TO EXPECT WITH THE NEW PRESIDENT-ELECT BIDEN ADMINISTRATION: KEY COMPLIANCE STRATEGIES FOR COMPANIES DOING BUSINESS IN THE US AND CHINA

The world will usher in a changing political, legal, and economic landscape as the new Biden administration assumes American leadership in 2021. The impact on trade may involve policy and/or legal changes in Export Controls, Sanctions, Compliance, and Privacy issues along with concomitant shifts in supply chain dynamics. Recently released Chinese export control laws will have an immediate impact on companies doing business in China, and will also have an extraterritorial effect. Companies doing business in sectors including technology, manufacturing, commodities and/or cryptocurrency will need to devise new strategies to navigate the often-tumultuous waters of commerce that lie ahead.

Our distinguished international panel consisting of former high-level U.S. government officials and a leading compliance expert in China will discuss these potential challenges and issues. The panel will provide practical solutions and/or tools that may position companies to adjust, pivot and profit from the shifting landscapes in both countries.

JULIE MYERS WOOD

Chief Executive Officer

As the Chief Executive Officer of Guidepost Solutions, I focus on helping corporations resolve problems with government agencies, and ensure they are proactively addressing compliance requirements. Prior to joining the private sector, I held leadership positions with the U.S. Departments of Homeland Security, Commerce, Treasury and Justice. This includes serving as the Head of Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Homeland Security's largest investigative component, as well as the Assistant Secretary for Export Enforcement and the Chief of Staff for the Criminal Division at the Department of Justice. Throughout my government and private sector career, I have helped develop, implement and execute compliance programs and crisis management plans and responses across a wide range of industries for numerous companies. I am nationally recognized as a speaker for my expertise on compliance, security, immigration and other law enforcement issues and have testified before Congress.
