

JACK LEBOVIC

DIRECTOR OF IT, CHIEF INFORMATION SECURITY OFFICER

Office: +1 212 817 6700

Email: jlebovic@guidepostsolutions.com

OVERVIEW

Jack Lebovic is an Information Technology professional with more than 20 years of experience. Currently, Mr. Lebovic serves as Director of IT and CISO for Guidepost Solutions where he develops and implements systems for multiple locations and integrates multiple platforms. His responsibilities include managing the day-to-day IT operations, maintaining a strong cyber-security posture, managing numerous vendor relationships, as well as analyzing and finding technology solutions to meet the company's changing business needs.

In addition, Mr. Lebovic works closely with the executive and business development teams to facilitate large-scale and complex projects with clients which include Fortune 100 companies and government agencies. This involves meeting specific IT and data security needs- ranging from meeting Federal regulations to creating data sharing and storage solutions.

Prior to joining Guidepost Solutions, Mr. Lebovic was the director of information technology for a transportation company where he oversaw its IT systems through a period of 10X company growth. He is credited with building teams responsible for strategic software and infrastructure projects; integration and product workflow for both customers and in-house end users; and utilizing cutting-edge technologies to position the company as an industry leader.

EDUCATION

- Bachelor of Science, Computer Science, Queens College
- Computer Technology Studies, New York University