OVERVIEW

Nicole Longshore is a senior analyst in Guidepost Solutions' Miami office, where she supports our Monitoring, Compliance and Investigations practice.

Prior to joining Guidepost Solutions, Ms. Longshore spent over a decade as an intelligence analyst at the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). Her FBI career started in the Special Operations Division, where she was the primary liaison for criminal matters at the division. She then moved to the Violent Crimes Intelligence Section, and then to the Counterintelligence Section, and eventually the Joint Terrorism Task Force, where she provided support for investigations targeting homegrown violent extremism.

Ms. Longshore also has extensive research experience, with many years spent as a research associate at Johns Hopkins University.
